New NCLF Newsletter Editor says HI!

Hi! My name is Paul Csornok, your new NCLF Newsletter Editor. I was informed that people had not heard of my acceptance of the position, taking over the reins from Gerald, so I am letting everyone know just that. If anyone has any flying stories, building stories, pictures, aviation related items for sale or anything else that would be newsletter worthy, please send them to me. My e-mail and phone number are just to the right, and my address can be found on the last page.

Emmit Miller Fly-In

What started out as a rather blustery day turned into fairly good weather for the Emmit Miller Fly-In. There was some wind, but not too much, and the sunny skies made it all worth the trip.

Emmit has a very interesting airstrip in that it runs among many houses and condo units, so it is really like landing in their back yards. Good thing they are all friendly. Emmit has a very beautiful house that was comfortable for all the pilots and guests. We were blessed this summer with an extra long flying season, and many in our club attended a high number of fly-ins this year.

Another Year Draws to an End

Can you believe it's only 3 weeks to Thanksgiving! Even though it's not the best weather for flying, now is the time to get started on preparing for next year. Have you changed your spark plugs recently? How does your air filter look? Are your fuel lines still OK? What's in the bottom of your fuel tank? How does your fuel pump look? Just because it's getting to be winter doesn't mean you can't spend time with your machine. And just think how much ahead you will be for 2008!

This November's meeting will have Bob Essell there to give us a talk on good ideas for winter storage of your bird. You might want to bring a pencil and paper to this one...

News Letter Goes Digital

This month, you will be receiving the newsletter in paper format and in digital format, that is if you have an e-mail address and you have let us know about it. Please review both and with your Dues Notice, let us know if you would like to receive the news letter via e-mail or still through the regular post.

Viewing the Digital News Letter will be just like any other Adobe Acrobat file (the ones that have the “.pdf” file extension on them) by using the Adobe Reader program. Chances are that if you have a computer, it already has the needed software on it. If you don't, it is free from Adobe and you can get a copy by using the link on the bottom of our website's News Letter page.

The Newsletter has been available on the website in this format for a few years now,

Graham's Fly-In

September 29th was a perfect day for John Graham's flyin in Coshocton Ohio. temperatures were in the mid to High 70's, low winds out of the south east. By 8:30 am, most everyone departed there home strips on there way to Carroll Co Airport for breakfast. Bob Schuck and his Quicksilver was the first to arrive, followed by Mark Warner, Don James and Rich Sniderham, Mike Baker and Gary Jindra, and Gerald Jackson.

After breakfast most of use departed to Grahams field, while Mike, Gary and Mark diverted to Paul Harvey's cabin on the east side of Coshocton before flying onto Grahams. We arrived at Grahams at 1:30 and the flyin was well underway. Graham field was busy with traffic in and out all afternoon. There were approximately 30-40 planes present at one time. Mike was able to give a few rides in his Savannah, while the rest of us ate and watched all the activity. There was plenty of good food to be had. We all departed around 4:30 headed home after a long day of aviating. mark your calendars for next years Graham flyin. Its is always nice to share your aviation experiences with good friends.
