Member News & Reports

Kim Veits' ¾ scale Pitts project (first reported here in the April issue) has made it into the air. We don't have a flight report or any other information on the aircraft to date, but we look forward to reporting more of the project. John Siman reports that Kim has also taken another plunge into the wonderful world of powered parachutes (look for a picture in this issue). John reports that he had to do a little arm twisting, but they had some fun! Gerald Jackson reports that the carb for his Sonex has been removed and returned to the factory for the application of some Service Bulletin items. Would you believe that the factory is in Oshkosh, WI? At the last report they might start on it the week after the fly-in!!! No flying for the last two weeks!!! OH THE PAIN! On the other hand, we have received Great News about a new sport pilot. Mark Warner completed the requirements to become a Sport Pilot during July.

Well, it's summertime and the flying is frequent. We have reports, but not much text, of our members flying all over the place, making their way to places like Ashland, Braceville, and Zanesville, to sample the various selections of the summer menu offerings. Sounds like lots of breakfast food to me!

In your search for food, don't go to Miller Airport expecting to find it, as the on-field restaurant has closed. When you go there for the flying activities, it is requested that you "announce" 10 miles out for the sake of the gliders. They are required to have a radio and monitor the Common Traffic Advisory Frequency (CTAF). You Do Have A Radio, Don't You?

As Always, Be Careful Out There!
